WEDDING OF INTEREST

On Friday evening, January sixth, a beautiful event took place in the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Lexington, of which Rev. Howard Whiteaker is pastor, when Miss Nell Fern Taulbee, one of the teachers in the Morgan County High School, was united in marriage to Herbert Winston Byrne of Mobile, Alabama. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Stewart of Covington.

As the bridal procession entered the church, the girls' trio of Asbury College sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." At the close of the ceremony they sang "Seal Us Holy Spirit" while the bride and groom knelt at the altar. Rev. Stewart closed the ceremony with an appropriate prayer while the trio softly hummed the same song "Seal Us Holy Spirit."

The attendants were Rev. Robert Bryant of Virginia and Miss Floris Cox and Mrs. Crystal Howard of West Liberty.

The bride was dressed in teal blue with brown accessories and wore a corsage of pink gardenias.

The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Press Taulbee of Hazard and is a graduate of Asbury College. She is very prominent in both religious and social circles in this community.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Byrne of Mobile, Alabama. He has been champion tennis player of Asbury College for the past two years and will receive his A.B. degree from that institution this fall, after which he will attend Princeton University from which he will receive his D.D. degree after a year's work.

SAD ACCIDENT

Sam Burkett, a salesman of Toledo, Ohio, had both his legs broken below the knee when he was hit by a car driven by Jim Franklin on the road between here and Salyersville on Monday night of this week.

Mr. Burkett had run out of gas and had stopped his car along the road and was waving to stop a passing car. The bones of his legs were so badly shattered that amputation was deemed necessary to save his life. The legs were amputated here and he was then taken to a hospital at Lexington. The report has been circulated that Mr. Burkett died later at the hospital. This is untrue and the man has excellent chances of recovery. A brother, Jim Burkett, of Toledo, Ohio, was at once notified and is now taking care of the sick man.

The accident happened near the place where there have been several holdups and whether Mr. Franklin was afraid of a holdup or lost control of his car has not been learned.

For Representative

Of all the offices to be filled this year by the voters of Morgan county none is of more direct concern to our welfare than is the Representative from this county to the State Legislature for the coming term.

The Representative from this county will be a director in the biggest business institution in Kentucky. A business firm which collects and spends yearly some $60,000,000.

To collect and to spend such a huge sum of money, and to do it fairly, impartially and justly is no small task. It is a task far beyond the scope of any man who is interested in the office primarily for selfish or personal interest.

By the time our next legislature meets our unconstitutional state debt will be nearly or entirely wiped out. If that legislature does its duty it will see to it that from henceforth no set of state officials can again override our constitution by issuing interest bearing warrants for current expenses.

The present revenue structure of Kentucky provides ample funds, not only for administrative purposes, but for constant reduction of the state debt as well. When all that debt has been paid then taxes should either be considerably reduced or a more liberal arrangement of state aid to counties inaugurated.

County indebtedness, where it exists in Kentucky was made possible by the acts of the state legislature. The state itself out of debt the next legislature can and should then be concerned with county indebtedness.

After only a limited and casual consideration the editor of the Courier offers his services to the voters of Morgan county as their Representative.

It is a condition of my candidacy that I be entirely free to represent the public interest, primarily of Morgan county, but always with the general interest of the state as a whole in mind.

I will not enter into any heated race for the position and if other candidates appear it is my intention to leave the race to them.

MRS. MURRAY NAMED

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. H. B. Murray, of West Liberty, today was named to lead local women in the nation-wide drive of the National Consumers Tax Commission against "all unnecessary taxes that increase the cost of living."

Announcement of her appointment as chairman of the commission unit to be formed among West Liberty housewives was made today from the organization's national headquarters in Chicago, through Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, national president.

The commission is described as a non-political organization conducting a drive by housewives of the nation against hidden and direct taxes that add to the burden of the consumer. The drive is led in this state by Mrs. E. H. Heller, of Louisville, the national committee member and Mrs. J. E. Warren, of Mayfield, Kentucky, state director.

"The commission is glad to have Mrs. Murray among the leaders of this needed movement," Mrs. Frazier said. "Already hundreds of units in many states are active in the educational drive on taxes that raise the cost of living for all of us."

"Most people pay hidden taxes without knowing it, and it's little wonder family budgets are strained when, for example, the commission's research department finds hidden taxes add 11 cents to a 29-cent purchase of meat, $10 to every $30 of rent, $1.95 to a $5 hat and $1.56 to a $4 pair of shoes."

A series of study programs will be arranged for members through which to inform families here of their tax burden, Mrs. Frazier said.

ROADS AND FORESTS BEAUTIFUL

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—Some of the residents living in towns near the Cumberland National Forest have been following the practice of dumping their refuse along Forest Service roads, according to District Ranger, Karl M. Stoller at Mt. Sterling, Kentucky. This gives the roads a very unsightly appearance and in some cases makes them dangerous for passing automobiles. A special appeal is being made to all people to cooperate in eliminating this nuisance.

Such practice is in violation of the Federal Laws and warnings have already been issued to several people known to have committed this offense. It is hoped that it will not be necessary to institute criminal proceedings.

Ranger Stoller also wishes to warn everyone that the safe speed limit on these roads is not over twenty-five (25) miles per hour, inasmuch as there are sharp curves and no guard rails. It is requested that turn-outs, which are built every 500 feet along these roads be used when passing or meeting other cars.

The Forest Service also wishes to make it known that these roads are available for the use of the public so long as the regulations and precautions, such as those mentioned above, are complied with.

Please help us to keep our roads and forests beautiful.

THE MEMORIAL TO JEFFERSON

The memorial to Thomas Jefferson, now in course of construction at Washington, may serve to remind the people of this country of a really great American.

The manner of this man is clearly seen in the directions left behind him, on the back of an old letter, for a monument to mark a simple grave. "A plain die or cube of 3 ft.," he wrote, "without any moldings, surmounted by an obelisk of 6 ft. height, each of a single stone." And then, on the face of the monument, the following inscription and "not a word more . . . because by these, as testimonials that I have lived, I wish most to be remembered" that "Here was buried Thomas Jefferson" author of the Declaration of American Independence, of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom and father of the University of Virginia."

It is interesting to observe that Thomas Jefferson did not make mention of the fact that he had been twice honored by his countrymen in being selected President of the United States. The things that he preferred to be remembered for were his devotion of the cause of human freedom, including freedom of worship to his countrymen and freedom of the mind in the pursuit of knowledge.

It will pay all Americans to know more about the life and thoughts of this great man.

Jim Tom May's family have had quite a battle with the flu the past few weeks. The children are now back in school.

News came Tuesday that a former resident of this county, Chap Swango, now of Dayton, Ohio, had a paralytic stroke Monday night and lived but a few hours.

MRS. SHERMAN LEWIS

The death of Mrs. Sherman Lewis about 4:00 p.m. Thursday, was a shock to the community. Her death had been expected for the past few weeks, but she was in the prime of life. She was stricken so suddenly and her suffering from the beginning was so intense. She was taken to the hospital, but the doctors soon gave up in despair and permitted Mr. Lewis to bring her home. She lingered several weeks and was so cheerful, sweet and patient through all her illness. She enjoyed having her friends come in and shake hands, even when too weak to talk.

When in health Mrs. Lewis had helped to build a happy home and made her yard beautiful with flowers. While she was a home woman, she was ever ready to lend a helping hand to a neighbor or to minister to the sick.

Stella H. Lewis was a native of Morgan county, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hopkins, deceased. She was born March 12, 1891, and died January 5, 1939. She became a member of the Enterprise Baptist church early in life and was a faithful Christian. After coming to West Liberty she attended all the churches. She was an active church worker, always being somewhere in Sunday school and church services. Later she became a member of the Christian Sunday school and was an active worker in the Ladies' Aid. She had no enemies, but was loved by the entire community.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lewis were united in marriage nearly ten years ago. Her husband is quite broken and the deepest mourner as she was his loving companion—his stay and comfort. Mrs. Lewis' nephew, Woodrow Hopkins, made his home with them.

Stella, as she was fondly called, became a member of O. E. S. 360, in West Liberty, June 2, 1933. Here too she showed her ability to do her work well. She filled many stations, including the highest office, that of Worthy Matron. She memorized all her work and at every station showed her efficiency. She was kind, thoughtful and helpful to the younger members. All her suggestions were for the advancement of the Order. At her death she was filling the station of treasurer.

She is survived by her husband and three brothers: Isaac Hopkins and Perry Hopkins of Logville and Dock Hopkins of Ohio.

The funeral services at the house Saturday, at 10:00 a.m., were conducted by Rev. Harlan Murphy and Rev. Rosco Long. Patrick and Prater undertakers were in charge.

The Eastern Star marched in a body at the head of the procession to the Salyer Cemetery and held a beautiful service at the grave.

planned to spend their remaining years. However, the untold sacrifices which they made for their children, have prevented the fulfillment of many plans.

In May of 1938 Mr. and Mrs. Rose moved to the Mason farm near Bear Lake, coming from Colorado. On August 8, their 43rd wedding anniversary, she was taken to the hospital at Ann Arbor, where she underwent an operation for cancer. Her strength gradually decreased from the time of her return in September when she was confined to her bed, until she quietly passed away on Tuesday, December 27, at one o'clock.

She was able to enjoy Christmas Day with her family and in the evening she called them to her bedside. She asked them to kneel and then offered prayer for their well being and happiness which will remain a priceless memory to each of them.

At the age of 11 she was converted and has lived a fine Christian life devoted to unselfish service. For many years she has been a member of the church of the Brethren.

She was preceded in death by four sons, Bernice, Herbert, Monroe, and Clyde, and two daughters, Maranda and Luella. She is survived by her husband, her mother, daughter, Mrs. A. B. Coffee, of Manatee, son, Virgil, granddaughter, Linda Rose Coffee, brother, Monroe Gevedon of Grassy Creek, Kentucky, and sister, Mrs. I. B. Byrd of Campton, Kentucky.

A true companion to her husband, a loving mother to eight children and a friend to all.

Funeral services were held at the church of the Brethren at Brethren, Michigan, Sunday afternoon, January 1, 1939. Rev. Hartsaugh officiating, with interment at Corfu cemetery.

FARMERS' COLUMN

THE FARM AND HOME

Following are the number of plants required to set an acre at various distances: 3 by 3 feet, 4,840; 6 by 6 feet, 1,210; 7 by 7 feet, 889; 20 by 20 feet, 108; 25 by 25 feet, 69; 30 by 30 feet, 48; 35 by 35 feet, 33; and 40 by 40 feet, 27.

Hens from which hatching eggs will be used should have access to green grass. If such green feed is not to be had, then feed clover, alfalfa or lespedeza hay in racks in the house. A gallon of milk per 100 hens may be fed in addition to mash and grain.

A cream to polish nickel and silver: Use a pound of whiting, 3 teaspoons of washing powder, 3 teaspoons of olive or castor oil and a cup of boiling water. Dissolve powder in the water, add the oil and slowly stir in the whiting. Mix well and put into glass jars and seal.

To panbroil steak: Use steak 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick. Place in a sizzling hot pan and reduce to low heat immediately. Continue cooking in the open pan at low temperature about 20 minutes on one side and then turn and cook 20 minutes on the other side.

To can chicken, prepare as for frying. Place in a pan and put into a hot oven until the fowl begins to brown. Sprinkle with a teaspoon of salt per pound of meat. Pack while hot into hot jars. Partially seal glass jars, process and completely seal; or exhaust tin cans, seal and process.

Stocking ponds and reservoirs with minnows is recommended as one of the effective methods of preventing small bodies of water from becoming mosquito breeding places. Destruction of all vegetation except grass from low-water level to a point above the high-water level also aids in decreasing the mosquito menace.

STATION DEVELOPES TOBACCOS

In response to inquiries about improved tobaccos, especially root-rot resistant burley varieties, the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association has prepared the following statement: "White Burley Number 16 is a variety of tobacco developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station about seven years ago. It is the result of years of work of careful breeding and selection. It has proved to be more highly resistant to black root-rot than the root-rot resistant variety White Burley Number 5, which is now widely grown in Kentucky. It is a higher yielding variety than Number 5 and of equal quality. It will outyield any Burley variety now grown in Kentucky on old black root-rot infested soils and has, on an average, given a higher yield of smoking tobacco than other varieties on uninfested land at the Experiment Station the past five years. It matures about one week later than Number 5. Burley 16 averages about two more leaves per plant than other varieties, which has resulted in a heavy yield of 100 leaves. It is recommended for trial on new as well as old tobacco land.

"White Burley Number 5 is a variety of tobacco developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station over 10 years ago. It is resistant to black root-rot, is of high quality and yields moderately well. It has proved to be a popular variety in old tobacco land, especially in counties outside of the Central Bluegrass area. It will outyield the commonly grown varieties on diseased land and will usually about equal them in yield on other land. It is now widely grown in Kentucky, and neighboring states and is popular because of its high quality and uniform type.

TO MAKE CELLAR DRY

Causes of dampness in cellars and basements, according to engineers at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, are: Land that is flat or sloping toward the cellar wall; lack of eaves-troughs; failure to keep eaves-troughs and down-spouts in repair and free of leaves or other debris; ground water close to or higher than the cellar bottom; leaky plumbing, especially water pumps in the cellar; and the condensation of air moisture.

The first step is to locate the cause of the trouble. If the land slopes toward the house, regrading is the only answer. Of course, defective eaves-troughs and down spouts can be cleaned out and repaired, usually without much expense.

Ground water is more of a problem and calls for a 4-inch tile drain along the outside at the bottom of the cellar wall. Although high in cost, if not placed at the time of building, tile drains are generally more effective than any expedient applied inside. When the trench is open for placing the tile, there is a good opportunity to waterproof or plaster the outside surface of defective walls. This is commonly necessary with walls of tile or concrete block.

Condensation or sweating frequently causes dampness which may erroneously be blamed on other factors. During warm weather, cellars are generally cool, oftentimes below the dew point of the air in them. This leads to condensation. Ventilation is the best remedy for this.

With KENTUCKY Editors

It's getting so nowadays that a bargain is not a bargain unless you can buy it on credit.—Morehead Independent.

Following the custom of many weekly papers the Tri-City News did not issue a paper during Christmas week and commented on the result the following week as follows: It's a peculiar thing, but seems like when we fail to issue a paper everybody wants to know why. And if we do happen to put out one everybody says there isn't anything in it.

Firecrackers and milk bottles don't mix. Raymond Lykens, 10, Farmers, will attest to that statement. Raymond was recovering Monday at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington from an operation in which one of his eyes was removed. The youth was hurt last week while playing on the school grounds at Farmers. A firecracker that had been placed in a milk bottle exploded, blowing a piece of glass into his eye.—Big Sandy News.

After kneeling in prayer Monday at courtroom services conducted by three ministers and hearing Circuit Judge John W. Caudill ask for indictments against a group of county officers collecting more than the legal fine for drunkenness, Floyd county's grand jurors began their nine-day session. The ministers led songs, read Scripture and prayed for the lessening of Floyd county's crime as jurors and spectators knelt, sobbing and calling, "Amen," then turning to each other and shaking hands.—Floyd County Times.

Asking that Attorney General Hubert Meredith be instructed to investigate the case to determine whether fraud had been practiced, Commonwealth's Attorney H. B. Kinsolving, Jr., Shelbyville, last week lodged a scathing protest with Governor A. B. Chandler concerning the commutation of Ralph L. Taylor's prison sentence from life to five years. The protest was in the form of a letter, citing that the commutation was made by E. C. Dawson, acting governor in the absence of Gov. Chandler and Lieut. Gov. Keen Johnson.—The Shelby News.

Colorado, which took on an old-age pension of $45 a month without first sitting down and counting the cost, finds itself obligated to pay on these pensions $18,000,000 a year, which it has discovered it can't raise. The problem before the new governor is partial repudiation or expropriation of all private property. While we have nothing but the best feelings toward Colorado, we are glad that at least one state has proven that money to pay pensions does not fall from heaven, or grow on bushes, and that before it can be paid out it must be collected. The rest of the states are indebted to Colorado for making this discovery.—The Auburn Times.

WASHINGTON NOTES

INCOME
Figures for the first 11 months of 1938 show that income payments to all persons in the country amounted to $58,244,000,000, a decline of 7 per cent from the $62,519,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1937. In November, for the sixth consecutive month, there was an increase. Because the cost of living is about 4 per cent below that of a year ago, the November income represented an increase in actual buying power.

RELIEF IN SPAIN

Twenty-four American organizations, conducting relief activities in Spain, have collected $1,916,431.17 during a period from May, 1937, to November, 1938, according to a summary of their monthly reports filed with the State Department. Of the total, $436,204 has been spent for administration and other purposes and $96,632.61 remained on hand. The balance, $1,431,483.80 has been expended for relief in Spain.

HOPKINS

Harry L. Hopkins has taken the oath of office as Secretary of Commerce. Confirmation by the Senate is reasonably certain but it is anticipated that some senators will take occasion to deliver verbal thrusts at the former head of the WPA organization.

NEW WPA HEAD

Colonel F. C. Harrington, acting administrator of the WPA, says he has two big responsibilities. One is to see that money appropriated goes to those actually in need and the other is to try to get the best work and the most useful results from those on relief. Colonel Harrington has had thirty years' experience as administrator in various capacities with the Army's corps of engineers.

FLEET IN TRANSIT

Early this week the last unit of the United States Fleet, 48 giant flying boats, the Fleet's patrol wing, took the air for Panama. They were preceded by auxiliary vessels which last week led the armada, consisting of 130 to 140 vessels and 500 planes, to the Caribbean region where annual maneuvers will be conducted. Left behind on the West Coast are about 32 combat ships, including the battleships Arizona, Nevada, Oklahoma and Tennessee, several heavy cruisers and scattered submarines, destroyers and smaller vessels. Many of them will be undergoing overhaul while the rest of the fleet proceeds with its tactical exercises in the Atlantic.

INCORPORATED

The Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, Incorporated, has been incorporated in New York for the purpose of establishing a permanent repository at Hyde Park for President Roosevelt's personal papers and collection of books and paintings. This is in line with the announcement of the President several weeks ago that funds received from the publication of his papers and speeches during the rest of his administration would be used to finance such a project. In announcing his plans, early in December, the President expressed the hope that he would continue to live at Hyde Park where he could assist in the maintenance of the collection during his life time and that, upon his death, the family home would be left to the government.

STABILIZATION

The huge $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund of the Treasury Department will come to an end next June 30, but Secretary Morgenthau will recommend its continuance. The fund was set up at the end of 1933, when the gold dollar was devalued, to be used in stabilizing international currencies and to prevent speculative abuses. Mr. Morgenthau says that the fund's activities have been conducted at a profit and that all expenses have been paid out of its earnings. Last year, he told a congressional committee that its profits were about $6,000,000.

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR

Visitors from every corner of the United States as well as from across the seas will be converging on New York after April 30, 1939—opening date of the year's outstanding spectacle, the New York World's Fair. Experts estimate that the Fair will attract some sixty to seventy million people, in addition to the tremendous crowds to which the metropolis normally plays host. Realizing that accommodations are going to be at a premium, the Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club has arranged special, all-inclusive, Economy Tours which will make your trip to the Fair infinitely pleasanter, more comfortable and less expensive. These tours, which range in length from two to seven days, include hotel accommodations, admission tickets to the Fair and conducted tours through the National Broadcasting Company's broadcasting and television studios at Radio City and a three and one-half hour conducted sightseeing tour of New York City taking in all the high-lights from Chinatown to Harlem, from Fifth Avenue to the foreign quarter of the East Side.

Yet due to the very real saving made possible through cooperative buying, our AAA planned tours will cost materially less than your hotel bill alone if you went to New York independently. You will be spared the trouble of attempting to find a room at a time when rooms are going to be scarcer than the proverbial hen's teeth, you will see the city in all its glamorous, fascinating aspects, you will know exactly how much your trip will cost in advance. These tours are completely individual, however. You are not tied down to a schedule nor do you do your sightseeing in a group, we simply issue you a convenient book of coupons, one for each of the services and features included in the trip. Your room, at the type hotel you desire, is ready for you when you arrive. You go to the Fair at what hour you please. Deluxe sightseeing motor coaches, the best in the city, leave on a regular half hourly schedule and you can go when you wish. In fact, if you are staying at a mid-town hotel you need only telephone, and the coach will pick you up at the entrance to your hotel. The Radio City tours, New York's most popular attraction, start every ten minutes and last an hour each, giving you a fascinating behind-the-scenes knowledge of the world's most modern broadcasting and television plants in action.

The New York World Fair will open April 30, 1939—to commemorate the launching of our government under the Federal Constitution 150 years ago. The great nations of the world, our own Federal Government, the states and territories—the city of New York—industry, labor, civic groups, art, science and capital—these are combining to present an inspiring glimpse of the "World of Tomorrow."

A city within a city comprising 200 city blocks has been set aside at Flushing Meadow Park, near the geographic and population centers of New York. Approximately $150,000,000 have been spent. Over 200 buildings have been erected and more than two miles of fun in the biggest and gayest amusement park in the world will be ready when the Fair opens. New York itself will be in gala array. Transportation systems have been improved in readiness to handle the crowds. New stations at the Fair site are being built by the three subway systems and the Long Island Railroad. Rapid transit systems can comfortably handle 115,000 visitors an hour. You can leave your car in a garage, many of them operated in conjunction with the hotels, and travel out to the Fair for five cents on the Subway, for ten cents on the Long Island Railway. But if you prefer to drive, highway arteries can accommodate 35,000 visitors an hour and parking space has been provided for that number of cars.

While in New York you will probably want to attend some of the theatres, to browse around the shops which cater to every taste and need, to dine or lunch at some of the smart restaurants, both at the Fair and in town.

The boat trips, the visits to the great trans-Atlantic steamers that may be in dock, the splendid museum, the historic shrines of a city that for all its modernity is steeped in history—these are additional attractions for the visitor who has time for extras. New York is everyman's city. You can find something of interest no matter what your tastes, no matter how fat or slim your purse. But if your time is limited the features included in our AAA tour will give you a fairly complete picture of the city all Americans like to visit.

The Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club is glad to be able to offer its members this special service in connection with the Worlds Fair. We have an illustrated folder giving rates and all other details of the 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7-day AAA Economy Tours, and of course we shall be glad to supply any additional information as well as to map out your route to New York for you. We suggest, however, that you let us have your reservation as far in advance as possible, even though you may not plan to go to New York until some time during the summer. Only in that way can you be sure of securing exactly the type of accommodations you prefer on the date you want them.

VENEER FURNITURE

Almost everyone has had the experience of inspecting a new piece of furniture and hearing the owner proudly say: "This is solid; not veneer."

This belief that furniture made from solid woods is always superior to that made of veneers is rather common but not true, says Miss Ida Hagman of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. One of the finest pieces of furniture in existence, a desk made for Louis XV of France, is made of veneers. Workmen spent nine years making it.

Both types of construction have their advantages, says Miss Hagman. She lists the following points in favor of solid furniture: The wood can be carved. If any of the surface chips off, the same kind of wood is exposed. And if the piece needs refinishing, it can be sandpapered or planed down. It has no surface layers to loosen and pull off, an accident which may happen to poorly glued veneer panels.

On the other hand, a well-made veneered or "plywood" panel with three to five thin layers of wood glued together, each across the grain of the other, is stronger in some respects than a single board of the same thickness. Usually it will not shrink, check, or warp to any serious extent. The cores of the veneered parts may be made of softer, lighter, and cheaper lumber, so that the finished piece may be sold for less than a similar article of one solid wood.

The charm of highly figured woods which are not practical to use in thick sizes can be obtained by using face veneers. When very thin veneer is cut from a beautiful figured wood, several consecutive layers will match woodin pattern so that beautiful symmetrical designs can be developed for such furniture as desk tops, table tops, or bedsteads. Again, curved and irregular surfaces can be produced by gluing veneer together in shaped forms. This would be impossible with solid lumber.

P. T. A. MEETS

The Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting of the New Year Monday night, January 9, at 7:00 P. M. Mrs. Louise Moore, president, presided.

The secretary, Mrs. J. D. Lykins, was absent and Miss Floris Cox was chosen secretary pro-tem. The treasurer reported a balance in the bank of $84.47. After the old and new business was dispensed with the following program was rendered: Bible Reading—Mrs. Catherine Byrd Prayer—Mrs. W. A. Caskey Glee Club—Directed by Carl Reeves Medley of Songs—3rd Grade Reading—Imogene Nickell

Then Dr. W. H. Vaughan, Dean of the Morehead State Teachers College was introduced by Prof. Carpenter. Dean Vaughan, which he is very capable of doing, delivered an unusually good address. His subject was, "What Education Is." He began his address by quoting from John Ruskin.

Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to roudery and their literature to lust. It means, on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercise and kingly continence of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept and by praise, but above all, by example.

Dean Vaughan emphasized the fact that each child has a right to succeed.

Each school day is an important day for the child. The school is obligated to see that he succeeds. Most cheating and dishonesty in school is due to poor teaching and unsatisfactory assignments.

More varied curriculum to provide for the interests and abilities of the child.

Guidance in succeeding and recognition are essential to healthy adult life.

Give him more music, playthings, art materials, tools and the opportunity to use them.

Dean Vaughan concluded his address with a quotation from the Holy Writ: "Train a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

At the close of the program a vote of the various home rooms was taken. Miss Mildred Whit, teacher of the third grade, won in the primary grades, Miss Floris Cox, sixth grade won in the intermediate grades, Mr. Cook, Freshman sponsor, won in the Junior High School and Mr. Bach, Sophomore sponsor, won in Senior High School.

The meeting then adjourned until its next meeting, February 13.

We are glad to announce that we have received a supply of grade cards. These cards properly filled out will be handed to the pupils approximately one week after the close of the first semester.

Courier readers make good neighbors.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Pastor Rosco Brong of the West Liberty Baptist church conducted devotional exercises at our regular free activity period Friday of last week. After the devotional Rev. Brong made a short talk from the following text: "Labor not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed." (John 6:27.)

Rev. Brong stressed the importance of character and urged the pupils to put forth their most earnest efforts not merely in the better things of this world but in preparation for eternity.

After the conclusion of Rev. Brong's address, a brief yell session was held. The yell leaders, Rex Little, Mabel McKenzle, and Geraldine Nickell, led the assembly in some very "peppy" yells.

Salysville—West Liberty

By Roy Fugitt

Before a large crowd, Salysville High's basketball team defeated the local five to the tune of 20-17. The game was packed with thrills from the opening whistle to the final gun. West Liberty started the scoring and held a three point lead at the half. But a grimly determined Salysville five came back to tie up and beat West Liberty 20-17. West Liberty however, missed many "snowbirds" and at least in their follower's viewpoint, was the better team. The local five were seriously handicapped by the loss of a regular early in the first half via the four route. West Liberty played a fine brand of basketball and must be given credit for their ability to work the ball into the basket and only the fact that their shooting was off caused them to go down in defeat.

The West Liberty Reserves defeated the Salysville Seconds 21-16. The remainder of our home basketball games are:

Jan. 20—Hitchins
Feb. 7—Betsy Layne
Feb. 10—Cannel City
Feb. 17—Haldeman
Feb. 21—Bettyville

Second Semester Begins January 16

The second semester of the Morgan County High School will begin Monday morning, January 16, at 8:10. In addition to the whole unit subjects the following new courses will be offered: Commercial Law, High School Arithmetic, Physiology.

Pupils desiring to enter for the second semester's work should consult the Principal immediately in order that a proper schedule may be arranged.

Pupils entering high school for the first time will be enrolled in English I (last half), History I (last half), Science I (last half) and High School Arithmetic.

W. L. CARPENTER, Principal Morgan County High School.

Prof. Winfred L. Carpenter and Carl Reeves were in Salysville Friday of last week after the close of the regular school hours.

Amateur Hour

The Amateur Hour held in the High School Auditorium, Thursday of last week proved to be a very interesting event. The Hon. W. M. Gardner, with all his legal humor, played the part of Major Bowes, with a great degree of success. The following judges were appointed: J. Blaine Nickell, Earl Price, and M. H. Holliday of Ashland.

The winners of the various events were determined by the applause of those present.

Frances Pennington, a very graceful dancer and a much noted harpist won first prize. For her excellent demonstration she received $5. The Nickell quartet of Ezel won second prize of $3. Engle and Brown of Vocum received third prize of $2. An Eldridge boy if Wrigley, received a prize of $1 in the fiddlers' contest.

The high school wishes to thank all those who helped make this event a success. The proceeds amounted to $24.95. Expenses—$12.90, Net Proceeds—$12.05. This amount was deposited in the band fund.

ADULT TEACHERS CONFERENCE

Approximately 145 adult teachers enrolled for a training conference beginning last week at Paintsville, Kentucky, January 2, and lasting through January 7, inclusive. The conference was called to order by District Supervisor, James R. Salys, who gave in brief the purpose and working procedure of the conference.

The teachers and supervisors were encouraged very much by the inspiring address given by Homer W. Nichols and the State Director of WPA Education Program, Lindsey E. Allen. The speakers were enjoyed very much by the group throughout the entire conference. It seems from the trend of the speakers heard last week that the public is sold on Adult Education. And we do not have a greater supply than a demand, but a greater demand than supply.

The conference was a very successful one. In this training conference last week the teachers set-up and worked out a long view lesson plan and a definite working procedure for the next three months, January, February, and March. The teachers now have plans, aim, and a goal in which to work toward. This was accomplished under the direction and supervision of Mr. James R. Salys and the splendid cooperation of all concerned.

CHILD HEALTH CONFERENCE

The Morgan County Health Department is endeavoring to bring the people of the county into closer relationship with their medical advisors, and to this end is providing a service of child health conferences to reach a dozen or more of the more accessible communities during the next three months, after which time the service will be extended to the more rural sections. The purpose of these conferences is to enable parents of small children to have regular periodic health examinations of their children to see that each child receives the benefit of health to which he is rightfully entitled.

At the conference the health nurse weighs and measures the children, becomes acquainted with the parents, and their problems. The health officer and the local physicians, when the physicians are able to attend, then examine the children to see what forms of medical attention or dental attention they may need. Free immunization of all children against smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever is offered, and highly recommended.

We are pleased to announce that at the next conference, which will be held in this county, at Cannel City School, Friday of this week, at one o'clock, we are to be fortunate in having the assistance of Dr. J. D. Whiteaker. All parents of small children, that is, under school age, who live in the vicinity of Cannel City, will do a fine thing for their kiddies if they take advantage of this opportunity to begin to form the Habit of Health by having regular health examinations.

Other conferences will be announced each week. That for West Liberty is scheduled for Wednesday, January 25.—WALLACE BYRD, M.D.

Business Guides

By C. E. Johnston

Director, Business Training Schools,
International Correspondence Schools

THERE are four interrelated subjects which any person should study before he attempts to engage in any form of merchandising business for himself. These are, marketing, business finance, accounting and business law. The man who plans to start a small manufacturing concern should also be a student of production.

The ability to interpret financial statements is as important to the business executive as to the accountant. The day has passed when even the smallest business can be operated successfully without financial statements and the constant study of the information they contain.

Of the great number of men who go into business for themselves each year, only a few meet with sufficient success to enable them to continue to operate. Statisticians have estimated that from 80 to 90 per cent of all small businesses ultimately fail. The principal cause of failure is lack of business knowledge. Many small enterprises are started when a cursory study of the market available would show that there was no possibility of sufficient sales being obtained regularly to meet operating expenses, let alone to pay interest on money invested and to yield the owner a profit. Many businesses fail because the owners have insufficient understanding of business principles and practice.

The direct aim of the business man is to make a profit out of which to support himself and his dependents and to lay aside savings in as large an amount as possible to constitute a competence for his old age. This desire to make money by engaging in business for one's self is typically American and perfectly legitimate, but cannot be fulfilled today without study of all the important aspects of business.

If You're Planning To Build

By W. S. Lowndes
Director, Schools of Architecture and Building
International Correspondence Schools

A CHARACTERISTIC feature of American dwellings is the porch, which occurs in one form or another in many residences. Porches form sheltered places in which to sit in pleasant weather. They also may be enclosed as sun rooms which may be used as sitting rooms in cold weather, for breakfast rooms or for sleeping porches. In some cases they are heated by steam or hot water. Fireplaces are sometimes installed. If you are planning to build it would be wise to give considerable thought to this feature. Make it fit your needs and contribute to the utility of your home.

In this day of sun worshipers the home-builder should be especially concerned about such matters as the sun porch. It is usually an enclosed porch with special furniture. It differs from an ordinary room in having two or more slides formed of windows. The builder's taste in interior decorations usually has full sway here.

The doorway or main entrance to a house is important. It may add character to a home, and in some styles of architecture, such as the colonial architecture of the United States, the finish of the building is quite simple, while the design of the principal doorway may be elaborate. Doors are constructed of a variety of different materials and are used in various ways. The doors of an average residence are generally made of wood, or wood and glass. You can exercise good judgment or display poor taste in selecting doors for your home.

When Springtime Returns

by Lawrence Hawthorne

When the Spring, with its joy and its beauty,
Comes again to the valleys and hills,
And the songs of the birds and the flowers
Add their charm to the woodlands and rills,
Then my heart knows a wistful emotion
That I find rather hard to define—
For the Spring always brings recollections
Of that first little sweetheart of mine.

Many years have gone by since that Springtime
When we promised we'd always be true—
When we caught that first moment of rapture
We were sure no one else ever knew;
But in fancy I still see the moonlight
As it danced in the gold of her hair,
And I still hear the low, gentle murmur
Of her voice on the sweet-scented air...

Life has brought other loves, other friendships;
I have known many joys in my day;
As a suitor and husband and father,
I have trod the conventional way;
But when Springtime returns, there is something
Very tender and precious and fine
That awakens—and sets me to dreaming
Of that first little sweetheart of mine.
